THE GEORGIA STATE COLLEGE FOR WOMEN

When the College was established in 1889, the law specified that it should be made a first-class College for Women and that it should include both Normal and Vocational work.

Standards

Like other institutions in the State, the College has gradually raised its standards of admission during the past twenty years. Since 1917 an applicant for admission to the Freshman Class must complete the work of a standard Senior high school before entering College.

The standard four-year degree course was authorized in 1917.

The College insists upon high standards of scholarship, health and character. High school graduates of poor health, weak character, or below the average in scholarship should not apply, and should not be recommended by High School Principals. The College offers the Standard four-year College courses leading to the A. B. degree and the B. S. degree; and also standard two-year courses leading to the Normal Diploma.

The College is a member of the following associations:

1. Association of Georgia Colleges.
2. American Association of Teachers' Colleges, with classification A.
3. Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools of the Southern States.
4. Southern Association of Colleges for Women.

Supply of Teachers for Georgia

No other institution has furnished more teachers to the country schools, to the town schools, and to the city schools, as its work has been mainly the preparation of teachers for the schools of the State.

Historical

The College was created by a special act of the Georgia Legislature in the summer of 1889, the bill being introduced by Hon. W. Y. Atkinson, then a representative from Coweta County, and afterwards for two terms Governor of the State. He was president of the Board of Directors of the College from its foundation to the time of his death in 1899. He was succeeded in this office by the Hon. F. G. DuBignon, by Col. James M. DuFree, by the Hon. T. E. Atkinson, and by Judge Richard B. Russell.

The first president of the College was Dr. J. Harris Chappell, who held the office from 1890 to 1905, a term of fifteen years, the last year being spent on leave of absence, during which Dr. Marvin McTyeire Parks was acting president. In 1905 Dr. Parks was elected president and served continuously, save for an interruption of eleven months (August 1, 1922, to June 30, 1923), while acting as State Superintendent of Schools, until his untimely death on December 29, 1926. Dr. Jasper Luther Beeson, who had served as acting president of the College from August 1, 1922, to June 30, 1923, was again made acting president and served as such until his election as President of the College, July 31, 1928.

Crowded

Today the Institution is crowded far beyond its capacity and for many years it has not been able to admit all of the new students who have desired admission.

An Educational Pioneer

The Georgia State College for Women has been a pioneer in many forms of education which are now becoming more popular, and are promising to be of vast service to the State.

The First State College for Women

Founded in 1889, following upon the establishment of the Georgia Technological School for men, this Institution was the first College for women supported by the State of Georgia.

The First Teachers' College

It was the first Normal School in Georgia, and the first to offer a modern professional training for teachers.

Pioneer in Home Economics

It was the first College in Georgia to require Home Economics in the regular course of study for all students. It was the first College in Georgia to teach Home Economics. It was the first Institution in the South (in 1906) to place Home Economics on a par with any other department, and to offer diplomas for specialization in the home sciences and arts.

Pioneer in Health Education

For several years, even before the influence of the great war had accelerated interest in that direction, this Institution has been among the first in the country to place great emphasis upon Health Education, and to maintain a fully organized department for the study of that subject. The College rejoices in the opportunity it has had for this pioneer service to the State of Georgia and the South, and it is gratified at the growing popularity of these newer subjects which are being rapidly incorporated in the curricula of many colleges and universities.

Marked Economy in Administration

Probably no College in the United States has rendered more economical service to the public. While the advantages have been fine, still the cost has been low for the student, for the parent, and for the State.

A Modern College

"The Georgia State College for Women is distinctly a Woman's College. It does not seek to imitate the educational practices that have prevailed in colleges for men. It does not seek to conform to tradition. In its fixed requirements, the College has deliberately broken away from what it considers many of the false fashions of the past. It believes that women have interests and ambitions and spheres of usefulness peculiarly their own. It believes that there are fields of work for women which call for new courses of study. It believes that the education of young women should be vitally concerned first about matters of health and character and personality. It believes that all the Sciences and Arts should be made to contribute to an improvement of the home, the school, the farm, the child, and of society in general. Following these new ideals in education, the College asks not only what has been taught, but also what ought to be taught to women."—Statement of Dr. Marvin M. Parks, President, in Annual Report, June, 1913.

Equipment

The college campus is beautiful. There are sixteen imposing buildings. The architecture is very attractive. Visitors say that the institution has one of the most beautiful college plants in the South.

Alumnae Association

The Alumnae Association is composed of graduates and former students of the College. Its purpose is to keep the members in touch with the College and to aid the institution in maintaining its fine standard and in its growth and development.

Its executive board consists of a president, two vice-presidents, a secretary, and a treasurer, and an executive committee consisting of the above officers and two other members of the association. There are twelve district chairmen who strive to keep the Alumnae in their districts in touch with the College.
